

‘Hey man. You going downtown? Going to try to get into a bar? See if you can score some beers? Here’s some advice. Don’t. ‘Cause if you’re under 21, the DC police are going to nail you. Police are setting up stings in bars and at sobriety checkpoints now. And when they get you, it’s going to hurt. You’re going to get dragged out, arrested, cuffed, booked, and thrown in jail. Think just because you’re in school it means something? Wrong. You’re going to jail.
